Summary: Just some questions I have about what you would like to see in my new fanfic! This is kind of like a fanfic request except I have the main idea picked I just want to know what kind of stuff you guys would like to see. Pleaseeee review with what you think should happen I need as many opinions as I can get so I can make this story into what everyone wants to read!

1. Chapter 1

I decided I wanted to start a new fanfic where Will becomes a merman. I know lots of people do that already but he was my favourite male character on the show so yeah. Some things I wanted other peoples opinions on though.

Should he become a merman by accident or on purpose?

Who should find out first?

How do YOU think they should find out? (I have my own ideas I'm just wondering)

What kind of things should happen in the story?

Comment what you think and I'll probably delete this once I start the story so follow me if you wanna read it!

2. Chapter 2

I was also wondering:

Should Sophie be a part of this story?

Should the girls still be affected by the full moon?

Which chapter should Will become a merman in?

Please review I would appreciate it so much and the faster you review the quicker this story will begin! XOXO

3. FINALLY

I've started writing the story now guys! I'm so excited for you to read it! The first chapter is already posted! It's called New Depths! Woah too many exclaimation points... Oh well! I'm excited for you all to read it byeeeee ;D
